Message of the Governor of Washington Territory

The Olympia papers publish this document It is quite a creditable performance, and is devoted almost wholly to the examination of the affairs and a discussion of the interests of the Territory The amount of public lands disposed of in the Territory during the year ending on the 30th November 1867, was about 62,000 acres, the total amount already surveyed or under contract for survey, is nearly 5,000,000 acres. The Governor's review of the resources of the Territory is quite interesting Of the Walla Walla valley he says

The great Walla Walla valley has the capacity, were all of its tilable lands brought into thorough cultivation, and all of its grazing lands into requisition, to supply with subsistence, a populous State Walla Walla county alone, with a population of only thirty five hundred, produced last year, nearly one and a quarter millions of bushels of grain, besides other staples, and a large amount of stock

The lumber interests of the Territory are thus referred to .

Our inexhaustible forests of pine, fir and cedar, now the most extensive and the most accessible in the United States, must soon supply the place of those in the Atlantic and Western States, which are rapidly becoming exhausted.

The lumber manufactured on the Sound alone, including spars, piles, laths and shingles, amounts to more than four hundred millions of feet annually The effect of this heavy draft upon one section of our lumber fields, is scarcely perceptible

Of the commercial advantages of the Territory the Governor says

In addition to the three hundred miles of Pacific coast proper, and two thousand miles of navigable rivers, on our borders and within our boundaries, we have in Puget Sound the finest inland sea in the world, With sixteen hundred miles of coast line, it is entirely free from rocks, shoals, and obstructions of every description With sufficient depth of water, in all its parts, to float the largest ship of the line, it is yet so locked in and protected that it may be regarded as one immense harbor

There is nothing comparable with it on the Atlantic coast of this continent, or the eastern continent, unless it be that sea of so many historic memories, which divided the mighty empires of Cæsar and Hannibal. Nature has made this body of water the key to more than fifteen hundred miles of Northern Pacific Ocean, and it will, in obedience to nature's laws, sooner or later gather within its grasp not only the coast trade for this distance, but also a large portion of whatever of commerce is carried on between the two hemispheres upon this ocean.

Of the Northern Pacific Railroad he remarks

The territories of Dacotah, Montana, and Idaho, embracing all the country from Minnesota and Washington Territory, have been organized, and largely populated. Cities of considerable magnitude have grown up between the head of navigation on the Missouri and that of the Columbia. The changes have paved the way for the Northern Pacific Road, and rendered it not only indispensable but certain. It is not probable—it is not possible that the westward tide of emigration and march of empire will be barked now, or that the advance of the great lines of railroads shall be stayed before they have spanned the continent.

Is it not probable, rather, is it not certain, so far as regards our country's progress, that the future is pregnant with events more wonderful, and changes more important, than those to which the past few years have given birth?

The company which controls this road is the strongest, both as representing capital and railroad interests, ever organized in the United States. The present board of directors comprises the ablest and most prominent railroad men of the country. Corps of engineers are engaged on both sections of the road.

Congress has made a liberal grant of lands to aid in its construction. All that is now asked or needed is the same from the General Government, that there was given to the Central road. The Legislatures of several States have instructed their Congressional delegations to vote for this subsidy The delegations, in whole or in part, of other States, are known to be favorable to the measure. The just claims of this road, the widespread interest that is felt in and the great influence that will be brought to bear upon it, leave but little doubt that the result will be as its friends desire. In which event the work of construction will be commenced the ensuing year and be vigorously prosecuted.

Of the entire practicability of the Northern road, so far as both construction and working are concerned, there is now no question. The only question heretofore has been as to the feasibility of crossing the Cascade mountains. The recent reconnoissances made by Gen Tilton, in behalf of the company, have demonstrated that the transit of this Range, by a railroad is practicable by, at least three of the passes, besides that via the Columbia river That through either of these passes the grade would be much less than that used in the Central road, over the Sierra Nevadas, and at a maximum altitude less by four thousand feet. By the Columbia river, the descent to the ocean is so gradual as to be scarcely perceptible.

The advantages of this, over any other proposed road, may be briefly stated, as follows It is opposed by fewer obstacles, whether of climate or topography An abundance of the best material for construction, is distributed along the entire line

The distance across the continent, from the Pacific to the great cities of the east, or of the west, is less than by any other route The distance from either New York or Liverpool to the principal cities of China and Japan, using on both oceans, the usual and necessary track of ocean travel, is less by more than one thousand miles It is more directly on the great thouroughfare of the world's commerce, in both hemispheres, on the Atlantic and the Pacific Almost the entire region through which it will pass is well watered and well timbered—as rich in mineral, and by far richer in agricultural resources, than that traversed by any other proposed road. If we except one hundred and fifty miles, occupied by mountain ranges, this whole belt of country has a capacity for sustaining a heavy population.

How they are Misrepresented —It was stated by telegraph, not long since, that a colored speaker had said that before his children should starve, "Richmond should run knee deep in blood," and that he "thanked God that the negroes had learned to use arms." In a card to the Dispatch, the speaker, Lewis Lindsay, says

I never made any such declarations or gave any such advice to my fellow-citizens; nor do I believe the advice you have given them this day (by indirection) as coming from me, is proper for them to heed What I did say was "the Examiner said that the streets of Richmond would flow with blood, and that if the issue must come to maintain our rights, we must meet the issue forced upon us" Your papers reported me as using similar language and giving similar advice in my Warrington speech, on the 15th of July, when the Warrington True Flag (one of your own papers) reports "We confess to having been disagreeably disappointed We were unprepared for the general moderation of his views and the sound, good, practical advice which he gave We believe in sincerity for their future conduct and government" I intend that my teaching and advice shall always merit such commendation, whether I receive it or not After your notice of this morning I beg that you will do me the justice to publish this in your issue tomorrow

Huns —A fierce and warlike nation, occupying eastern Turkey nearly 1200 years they were almost wholly exterminated by the Chinese in A D 93, and the remnants settled on the Volga, and attacked the Roman allies on the Danube in 376, but having been subsidized under Attila, they turned their arms toward Germany The latter country and Scythia were conquered by them about A D 433 One hundred thousand of them were slain on the plain of Champagne, 447 They were defeated by Charles the Great in several battles during eight years, and were almost extirpated, and soon ceased to appear as a distinct nation after 730 When they settled in Pannonia, they gave it the name of Hungary.

According to a statement of Messrs. Fenerheerd & Co , of Oporto, the port vintage of 1867, has been favored by excellent weather. The total production of this year is estimated at from 40,000 to 45,000 pipes, against 50,000 pipes in 1866, 96,000 in 1865.

Some Hindoo thieves determined to rob a train in Madras. They accordingly blocked the train with tree tops. The engineer stopped his train, the thieves swarmed into the cars, the engine was reversed and run back with all possible speed, and all the robbers were soon lodged in jail, except those who were killed in jumping from the train.

Dr Post has discovered a very curious fact that deaf persons can feel a drum which beats. They feel the reverberation as if striking the bottom of their feet and passing up to the region of the heart. He has made a curious application of the discovery, having an alphabet which he beats on the drum, and the mutes with their backs turned, write the words spelled in that way.

In London they have a man who gives exhibitions in a huge tank filled with water, He sits on the bottom cross legged and grins at the spectators; opens his mouth quite wide, eats, drinks a bottle of milk, laughs audibly, smokes a pipe without extinguishing it, all under water. His feats usually occupy about half a minute, but he is able to remain more than a minute beneath the surface.

The earliest Universal Exposition of which we have any record was held at Rome in the days of Nero The philosopher and moralist, Seneca, gives the following account of it "I was present the other day at a solemn exhibition of the wealth of Rome, where I saw, statues which were marvelous, perfect masterpieces, exquisite stuffs and draperies, and costumes brought even from beyond the Roman frontiers, etc."

The introductions of paintings and bronzes into the houses of private citizens is having a sensible influence upon the taste of their owners. The contrast between gold frames, richly colored pictures and cold white plaster is found to be harsh and unharmonious, and so the walls of our best houses are tinted with red, blue and yellow in such proportions as will make pleasing harmony with the furniture and ornaments of the room.

Flowers of Speech —A Colonel W. E. G., then of Ohio, now of Missouri, got off many good things, and occasionally was himself made the subject of merriment Of the latter sort was the following

On the last "glorious Fourth," the Colonel delivered an oration at Neosho, down in the southwest corner of Missouri. In the course of a magnificent effort, which will long be remembered by the thousands who heard it, the Colonel alluded to the surpassing beauty and richness of that section of country, and drew a strong contrast between its present peaceful and prosperous condition and the devastation and bloodshed which rioted there during all the late war. In this part of his address he used this expression "Your children grow around you in beauty now—your sons like these young forest trees, your daughters like yonder flowers upon the prairie" After the exercises the Colonel and a few friends were chatting over their meerschaums when a long drawn out, bushy headed, grizzly-bearded man, such as these frontiers only can produce (with two "navies" and a "bowie" in his belt), came in very abruptly and demanded to know what he meant by the expression quoted above. G. carefully explained the poetic compliment intended for the rising generation of Southwest Missouri, and added by asking his grim visitor to "take su'thin" "All right, Kernal!" answered the good-humored man eater, "all right Kernal! Durn me of you ain't a brick! But I sort 'a spicioned you war pokin' fun at our young 'uns, as how most of our timber here is wuthless black jack, and the prairie flowers durned weeds'"

Mining as a Profession

Practical mining is becoming a very popular, as well as important, profession The scientific "attachments" of our colleges are giving the subject special attention, and in Europe we find a number of institutions devoted solely to this profession The circle of "learned" professions is gradually enlarging, and popular prejudices will soon give way entirely to the spirit of modern enterprise. The time is not distant, we trust, when the graduates of our classical colleges will . . . themselves among scientific and mechanical professions, according to individual taste, instead of confining themselves, as they do now, in such fearful proportions, to law, medicine, and theology. None of the professions have to . . . any charms as that of scientific mining. Chairman Union State Central Committee.

A Very Dubious Compliment.

In his late message to Congress extolling Gen. Hancock, the acting President commends that officer for acts which, had they been performed any time in 1865, would, it can hardly be doubted, have moved their author's removal from his command. All remember how at that time Mr. Johnson was much more violent and vindictive towards the rebels than were any of the military commanders. By his own order rebels were thrust out of office at Mobile, New Orleans, and elsewhere; and those whom Sheridan and other Generals had not removed from official positions to which they were elected by the people, Andrew Johnson in several instances summarily dismissed. The military commanders were not "Radical" enough for him, and therefore he interfered personally to "make rebels take back seats." But he is now sailing on the other tack, and sends a message to Congress warmly commending an officer for putting back into official positions the very same class of men whom he himself [illegible] hardly more than two years ago!

It is [illegible] by the acting President that General Hancock is the only officer in command [illegible] of the Potomac, who, since the war, has [illegible] from violating the constitutional rights of his fellow citizens. Is it possible that Gen. Hancock will feel flattered by such commendation [illegible] a source? He is made of singular stuff if he does not, like the actor in the old play, [illegible] an equivocal compliment equivalent to [illegible] reprobation. For will the country believe that of all our officers of rank, merit and [illegible], Gen. Hancock is the only one who cares for law, who regards the example of Washington, who [illegible] from violating the constitutional rights of his fellow citizens? [illegible] is it not likely to come near being thought that this [illegible] language about Gen. Hancock [illegible] means that he is the only officer in high rank in the army who has gone over to the side of Johnson and his rebel friends? Though Gen. Hancock is without doubt a worthy officer, his [illegible] has not weight enough to be set in the [illegible] officer of high rank [illegible] cannot afford to be [illegible] the [illegible] of such comparisons.

[illegible] is delighted to have found one [illegible] will support his "policy." [illegible] of Gen. Hancock. It is evident also [illegible] the Democratic party [illegible] as its candidate for the Presidency, and Johnson would no [illegible] like to help the movement forward. He is [illegible] for the [illegible] of that party in the Presidential [illegible], and like many others, evidently [illegible] that its only [illegible] for success consists in [illegible] and taking a man who [illegible] by the country during the war. The indications are now that the "Democracy" will have [illegible]

A C[illegible]

It would be nothing [illegible] than a strictly just [illegible] should impeach Johnson [illegible] on his own admissions [illegible] usurpations. He has [illegible] which he [illegible] he has removed persons from [illegible] positions who were holding under State [illegible] which authority he declares [illegible] legitimate and every way perfectly [illegible] he has compelled political communities [illegible] calls sovereign States to ratify an [illegible] the Constitution of the United States on pain of being [illegible], in case of refusal, [illegible] in the Government; he [illegible] and other officers in de[illegible] in States which he affirms have lost [illegible] of the rights which States possess under the [illegible] he has [illegible] the question [illegible] in the South in defiance of the [illegible] which he lays down that those communities are States in the Union, and as such entitled to [illegible] suffrage [illegible] for itself—holding that the rebel States are on the same footing with the [illegible] of the Union, he has trampled on every right which is secured to the States by the Constitution. He has [illegible] himself of grosser usurpations of power than would be tolerated in Napoleon of France or Frederic William of Prussia; and as he has [illegible] the bar of the American people, there would be no injustice in [illegible] him at his word and removing him from the [illegible] his own statements against himself prove him unworthy to hold.

In a Strait Jacket.—It is understood that the "journeyman editor's" employers have been [illegible] him about his style of writing in their paper,—insisting that it must be radically reconstructed. That they have plainly informed him that he must write less on that great topic, "ourself," and not stumble blindly and ignorantly into the discussion of other subjects which he knows nothing about. That they are willing he shall continue his weak general invectives against the "Radicals," but they protest against his attempting hereafter to discuss historical [illegible] or any anything about bonds, taxation, Supreme Court decisions, enemy's territory, aliens, or the record he made during the war;—the reason for the interdiction being his want of success in dealing with these matters. That the "journeyman editor" is now restricted by his employers to a very narrow class of subjects, consisting, as aforesaid, of general denunciation of [illegible] opponents, with positive instructions [illegible] after on these topics which he has [illegible] himself so ridiculous in trying to [illegible]. Whether the stockholders have designated a Committee to examine the articles before their insertion to decide whether they will do, we are not positively informed. Some time ago their [illegible] was told that he must stop vilifying and calumniating the Methodist Church; and not a word has since been published in the paper defaming that religious organization. The "Directory" is coming down very hard upon poor old Beriah. Confined in a strait jacket, he is realizing the annoyances and misfortunes which belong to the lot of a "journeyman editor."

The Memphis Post remarks pithily that about the doors of every corner grocery in the country towns in that region, may be found half a score of white men, smoking cob pipes, and demanding vehemently, "Where the devil shall we get labor to raise our cotton?"

A N[illegible] Era for Oregon.

Oregon has been settled for twenty-five years. Since pioneers began to flock from the older States to her rich valleys, other Territories then unorganized, without boundaries and without names, have grown into populous States. Minnesota at that time had hardly been thought of. The same is true of Kansas; and even Iowa then was a wilderness. Yet each of these is now a State of no inconsiderable importance, and one of them contains not less than a million of people. Territories that were far behind Oregon in settlement and organization, and now far ahead of her in population and wealth. The cause is not that Oregon is deficient in natural resources; in this respect she may safely challenge comparison with any of her sisters who have outrivalled her. Her backwardness is owing to her geographical position, to her remoteness from the centers of population, to the difficulty and expense to be incurred in reaching her borders. As a community she has always been too small to effect anything great, and the increase in her wealth has, for some years, been but little more than the natural growth which may take place in an almost isolated community. But the citizen of Oregon may have hopes that another era will soon begin. Any connection with the Pacific railroad, no matter where made, will put new life into the State. A system of transportation to carry off our surplus products will effect wonderful changes. Let all hope that there is "a good time coming," and let all exert themselves to the extent of their ability to bring it along.

The Chicago Tribune says: "Complete returns of the recent New York election, give the following aggregate for Secretary of State: Republican, 324,017; Democrat, 375,856; Democratic majority, 49,869. In 1864, the vote of New York stood as follows: Lincoln, 368,735; McClellan, 361,986; Lincoln's majority, 6,749. It will be seen that the Republican vote this fall is 44,718 less than in 1864, while the Democratic vote is 11,900 more. This Democratic gain, and more too, comes from the cities of New York and Brooklyn alone, viz: In New York the gain is 8,055, and in Brooklyn 7,602—total, 15,657. Throw out these two sinks of corrupt voting, and the Democratic vote of the Empire State is 3,757 less than it was in the Presidential contest of 1864."

The Tombs of Union Soldiers.—It will be remembered that Congress, by an Act passed on the 22d of February, 1867, appropriated $750,000 for enclosing the various national cemeteries with proper fencing, and for placing over each grave a commemorative tablet. A commission was also designated for carrying the Act into effect, at the head of which was placed General Grant. The National Intelligencer understands that this Board has had the matter under recent consideration, and have nearly completed the necessary arrangements. It has been ascertained that 330,000 tablets will be required—a fearful account of the destruction of human life in the late rebellion.

What the Freedmen's Bureau has Done.—The Cincinnati Times, remarking the fact that more than half the number of persons relieved by the Freedmen's Bureau during the past year were whites, inquires: "Will the Democrats tell us whether this is a white or black man's Bureau? Are the Southern rebels mad because all the charity of Government has not been expended on the whites, and the negroes left to starve and suffer every abuse which the brutal whites might be pleased to inflict?"

An Ohio paper says some Republicans who recklessly voted for the Democratic nominees for the General Assembly now explain that the contest seemed to be between Vallandigham and the "nigger," and in desperation they chose the former. This is the most serious charge against the [illegible] that has yet been recorded.

The Helena (Montana) papers report all the quartz mills in the vicinity of that place running with great success.

The Pyramids—Joseph's Well.—Beecher, with the Quaker City excursionists, writes from Alexandria:

The Shiek waits us at the pyramid base, and is duly paid for the two servants whom he orders to assist us in climbing. The courses of stone are Baalbecian in size—between three and four feet high—so that every one is glad to avail himself of the aid. And thus fifteen or twenty minutes climbing suffices to reach the four hundred feet high summit. The view from the summit of the great pyramid—where is a standing place some thirty feet square—is too extensive to be good. The eye wanders over the great level country until distance blends and confuses, and though our out-look is sufficiently commanding, the lack of hill and vale, light and shadow, destroys anything like beauty or variety in the landscape. All we see is modeled in a single pattern. All is level, all dead, all the same. And now the Arabs redouble their persuasions, and if these are not effective they drop a few threats of helping you fall unless you help them to back-sheesh. They have learned enough of English to conduct quite a conversation on that subject. But they found, generally, that the Yankees could play brag as well as they, and were too much at home on rock-climbing to be easily intimidated. One couple only gave way, and, in fear, allowed themselves to be bled—in purse to avoid the threatened violence.

After the customary rounds inside the pyramid, where darkness was visible (and nothing else) outside the Sphinx, where a mutilated nose on a large scale was the chief attraction, and among the tombs, where, for variety, we found more sand—we laid our courses for the landing place.

The supply of water in Cairo most treasured comes from Joseph's Well, and, seeing that we are on the very ground which witnessed the triumphs of Israel's favorite son, the name is certainly not inappropriate. The well is some twelve or fifteen feet in diameter and nearly 300 feet deep, its mouth being in the citadel of which I have already spoken. The water is raised by mule power, in earthen jars fixed to endless ropes. Two sets of these endless ropes and jars there are, of which one is worked by mules down in the well lifting the water one third the hight, while those at the surface lift it the remaining two-thirds. The machinery, however, is so imperfect, or so imperfectly managed, that very nearly half the water which leaves the well finds its way back again without help. The task of the mules is never done. The wheels must be kept moving night and day, and this is effected by frequent changes of the animals.

"Nigger" Equality in England.—A lamentable and astounding instance of the disregard of the sacredness of the word "white" is furnished in the following item which we find in an Eastern paper:

The remains of Ira Aldridge, the celebrated negro actor, after lying in state for two days, and having been visited by thousands of people, were interred with great pomp at the German Evangelical Church, Lodz, London. There were a vast number of soldiers, societies, dignitaries, &c., in the funeral cortege. Mrs. Aldridge has returned to one of her villas near the Crystal Palace.

This thing cannot be permitted to go on. It will breed "a war of the races."

An erudite printer, in an office in Chicago, was one day "setting" a price list of books for a prominent publishing house in that city. Each line contained the title, the author and the price. Coming to Dickens' works, he carried one of them out thus:

Barny...by Rudge, $1 50

We take off our hat to the new author.

Begging has been reduced to a science in Columbus. The latest application was from a little girl at the street corner, who earnestly pleaded for a "chaw o' tobacco for her sick, dying mother."

The Chicago Post knows exactly where Wilkes Booth, the assassin, is "living in a foreign land," but will not disclose further than the name of the place begins with an "H" and ends with an "l."

A peculiar carriage, with wheels ten feet in diameter and sails, has been constructed in St. Louis, for use on the plains. It can be used as a boat in crossing.

Abuse of the Press.—The St. Louis Democrat says:

We do believe in liberty of the press, but there are times when we regret that some law cannot be passed to prevent the press being used by lunatics and blackguards. Nevertheless, no such law being practicable, we trust that lunatics and blackguards will furnish the antidote for their own venom so effectually that decent people will not be seriously influenced by their sayings. Thus, the editor of the Vicksburg Times has recently been calling Gen. Pope "that contemptible liar and braggart, the man of the slapped face," and Gens. "Sheridan, Schofield and Ord, scoundrels all." Again he calls Gen. Ord "that ridiculous knave and fool, the Haynau of Mississippi and the Gesler of Arkansas." Whereupon Gen. Ord has suppressed the lunatic and blackguard. The same general has received deserved praise for action with regard to the unwarrantable destruction of a press at Camden, and we cannot blame him much for thinking that there is a point beyond which forbearance ceases to be a virtue. What on earth can be done with such idiots as this Vicksburg ranter?

A Powerful Explosive.—Ehrhardt's safety powder, the Prussian invention, is used with great success in blasting away the rocks obstructing Boston harbor. Eight pounds of it in six days removed 150 tons of rock, while 520 pounds of ordinary powder and 39 days' labor disturbed only 20 tons.

Coughs and Colds.—Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, &c., should try "Brown's Bronchial Troches," a simple remedy, which is in almost every case effectual. The Troches have been tested by time, and pronounced universally superior to all other articles for the same purpose.

RECREATION AND AMUSEMENT.—It is necessary that mortals should have some amusement, and since our city is not blessed with an elegant theatre, or some place of innocent amusement, it is the duty of every man to see that his acquaintances coming to our city should at least be pleased, and how can you please them better than by taking them to KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street, to buy one of those handsome suits they keep for sale.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

WHERE MY HEAD-QUARTERS!
HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED
For the Past Six Years, and where
I WILL HOLD MY ANNUAL CARNIVAL
DURING THE COMING HOLIDAYS!
MY BUDGET FOR THIS SEASON
COMPRISES
THE LARGEST STOCK!
THE HANDSOMEST GOODS!! and
The Cheapest Prices!
AND THAT ALL MAY OBSERVE
The Christmas and New Years'
HOLIDAYS!
I herewith issue my Annual PROCLAMATION!!!

I've come, my dear people, among you once more,
Keeping up the good custom established of yore
I bid you all welcome! I wish you good Cheer
A right merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
You will find me this year, as you have heretofore,
At McCormick's, on Front street—the Franklin Book Store
Where I've opened my Budget 'twas filled to the brim
With every nice Toy that could talk, walk or swim.
I've Musical Work Boxes—and Guitars for the fair
And Gifts for the Gents that are both rich and rare,
Whilst my Budget includes the nicest new Toys
Intended as Gifts to good Girls and Boys!
I've the Ark in which Grandfather Noah was kept
When all other creatures from the world were swept,
(For men in those days would in evil persist,
So the world was washed by an Oregon mist!)
I've Babies of Rubber, of wax and of leather,
(They were all made to order), and well put together;
I've Vases and Cups nicely gilded outside,
And little Cock Horses for Bobbies to ride;
I've Cannon and Pistols which cannot explode,
For the reason they hold neither wadding or load.
I've steamboats that run—you just wind them in front
And they'll beat the Cascade or the Wilson G. Hunt.
I've a new Locomotive—It can never explode,
'Twas built for the use of Gaston's Railroad,
I've Engines that play—Set them down on the floor
And they'll throw greater streams than old '2' or new '4.'
I've Furniture, Fiddles, and French Fusileers,
Soldiers that look like S. B. Pioneers.
I've Swords made of tin—Guns and Pistols as well,
And the new kind of Drum that rings like a bell.
I've Masks of all sizes—I've Grace Hoops, galore,
And you'll find at McCORMICK'S a thousand Toys more,
On FRONT STREET the Store is—105,
Where TOYS are as plenty as bees in a hive;
Go there and buy them—this is my request,
His Prices are Low and his Stock is the Best.

{L. S.} Given at my Palace in Wonderland, this 30th day of the eleventh month, being the first year of the reign of George the Third in Webfoot.

SANTA CLAUS.
Per BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,
nov30d1m Keeper of the Great Seal.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 635 AND 637 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts. The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

R. G. SNEATH,
Wholesale Grocer,
32 FRONT STREET, PORTLAND,

CLIMATE.—It is very fashionable for people east of the mountains to rail at the Webfoot climate You never see a man from the Dalles or Umatilla, or Idaho but he is putting on such airs as shrugging his shoulders and growling and swearing about the Oregon mists of the Willamette, and cursing the fortune which brought him here; he promises to thank God when he gets out of the valley, and then gets up a little cough or wheeze to show how the climate has already affected his lungs, he is a great drinker of snifters, when here to neutralize the climate as he says and to keep off the rheumatism and the blues a [illegible] he swears that when at home, taking a nip is one of the rarest things in his personal experience, and that should he eventually become a confirmed inebriate it will be all attributable to the Webfoot climate We never hear one of these high toned [illegible] rail at our mists and fogs and climatic un[illegible] in general, without feeling a sort of shame that our lines have fallen in such places, and a sort of [illegible] awe crawling over us at standing in the presence of a man just from such a climatic paradise as the "East of the mountains" If we didn't know that three quarters of the man's railing and cursing and coughing and wheezing and snifftering etc is simply a sort of putting on of provincial airs we couldn't endure Webfoot at all we should be persuaded to renounce it and "git up and git" As a commentary on the whole subject, we beg leave to state the figures in relation to the depth of rain which fell at the Dalles during the late stormy week, in contrast with the fall of rain at Vancouver during the same time According to the rain gauge at Ft. Dalles, the total fall of rain amounted to [illegible], while at Vancouver it only fell to the depth of 10.07 inches. And Vancouver is supposed to be the [illegible] place in Webfoot or the adjoining Territories Talk about climate

COMPLIMENT TO ONE OF OUR SENATORS.—The Albany (New York) Journal pays the following deserved compliment to Senator Corbett "Senator Corbett of Oregon has been spending a few days with his father in law, Mr Jagger, of this city Although a native of Massachusetts, Mr C resided in Washington county in this State, for many years previous to his emigration to Oregon, where he has been since 1850, and where, as a merchant and financier, he has acquired fortune, and a popularity [illegible] by any other citizen of that young State. He is a decided Republican; but he has no sympathy with the extreme and impracticable follies of the Butler and Sumner school As a practical financier, he will take high rank in the Senate, and his sound judgment will secure for him a solid influence in the discussion of the complicated questions which will arise in the struggle for a safe and equitable adjustment of the finances and revenue of the country"

A HEAVY DRAY COMPANY.—Articles of incorporation were signed [illegible] day and filed in the County Clerk's office, in which the several draying firms of Bills & Co., [illegible] & Co. and Hogan & Co. agree to consolidate under the name of "The Portland Draying and Hack Co" The incorporators are C Bills and Al Zieber of Bills & Co., F B Camp, of Camp & Co, and Henry Saxer, of Hogan & Co, but each of the original members of the firms named are holders of stock The capital stock is fixed at $80,000 The articles set forth that the incorporation is for the purpose of carrying on a general draying and forwarding business in this city. The new order of things goes into operation on the 1st of January, [illegible] The company will own nearly every dray and hack, now running in the city and will be the heaviest firm of the kind, probably on the coast.

CIRCUIT COURT. UPTON, JUDGE. Saturday, Dec. 21st [illegible] of [illegible] of Jacob Cline vs Mary Cline; [illegible] against defendant to [illegible] why she should not be punished for contempt of Court, in violating an order of the Court enjoining and restraining her from cutting timber on certain lands belonging to said [illegible], plaintiff, upon hearing the proofs, the Court [illegible] that the defendant had not violated the said order, the [illegible] was therefore discharged and the costs taxed against the relator Mulkey, Beal and J. N. Dolph [illegible] and Logan for defendant

[illegible] White vs. D C Coleman, action on promissory note; judgment against defendant in the sum of $700. [illegible] by default Logan & Shattuck for plaintiff

[illegible] vs. N H Mehrens; plaintiff granted a [illegible] from [illegible] bed and permitted to assume her [illegible] name Sarah Miranda [illegible]

AN INCIDENT OF THE FLOOD IN COWLITZ RIVER. A son of Mr. Huntington, the U. S. Marshal of Washington Territory, about the time the water of the Cowlitz river was getting over the banks, went down to the bottom land to drive off a horse kept there but before he could return, the water got so deep that he was compelled to climb a tree to save his own life. He [illegible] on this [illegible] for forty hours in the rain and cold, and to save [illegible] from becoming benumbed and helpless, he [illegible] in climbing up and down the tree In this way, he wore the [illegible] off the tree as far as his route extended, and the clothing mostly off his [illegible] Another tree being uprooted by the [illegible] against [illegible] Huntington's tree and he narrowly [illegible] being knocked off We did not learn the manner of his rescue

MASONIC ELECTION AT ST HELENS.—St. Helens [illegible] No. 32 A F and A M, have elected as officers for the ensuing year J. G Hunter, W M., B M Watts, S W; Geo. A Ladd J W, Jno. Ayres, Treasurer; W F. Williams, Secretary; A. S Majors, Tyler They give [illegible] on the 27th instant—St John's Day—upon which [illegible] Hon. W W Upton will deliver an oration, after which a collation will be [illegible] to the members and visiting brethren In the [illegible] a grand ball and supper will be served to which [illegible] are invited They have a hall 24x34 will have a good [illegible], etc A large crowd will no doubt attend

[illegible].—The following editorial composition onto the [illegible] subject of Snow, is from one of our [illegible] [illegible]. It is beautifully clean—and it is equally clear that the writer had not been indulging in too much water [illegible] "The first of the [illegible] fell in broken doses, yesterday, about 3 o'clock P. M [illegible] but make your regular visits as [illegible] is [illegible] with your arctic birds and when it [illegible] to pad [illegible] We "Webfeet" are none of your [illegible] about in snow, we find it rather rough substitute for the [illegible]

THE STEAMER U. S. GRANT. [illegible] time ago, we [illegible] that the steamer U. S. Grant had been sold to [illegible] on Puget Sound, to run between Olympia and Victoria, as an opposition steamer. Mr Sutton, late chief [illegible] of the steamer New World, has arrived in this city for the purpose of taking the Grant around to the [illegible], and will start with her as soon as she can be fitted for her new trade. Her boiler is not of proper con[illegible] for using salt water, and a salt water boiler will [illegible] substituted for it, before the vessel will leave here.

PUGET SOUND MAILS.—We have received from Puget [illegible] several papers dated before the late flood, which [illegible] they had [illegible] all sorts of [illegible] from fire. We learn that a gentleman who started from Olympia about the time the floods commenced was twelve days in getting through to this city He reports that the Chehalis river was as high as was the C[illegible] and that great destruction of property occurred We have no papers yet of later date subsequent to the flood [illegible] ELECTION.—At a regular meeting of Washington Lodge No. 4, A. F & A. M., held at the hall in Vancouver, Saturday evening, the 21st, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year W H Troup W M; Jos. M Fletcher, S W; J [illegible], J W; C. H. Siegert Treasurer, John Eddings, Secretary; N G. Bunn, S. D; Charles Lee, J. D, George Weeden, Tyler. They will be installed on the evening of Friday, [illegible].

AN UMBRELLA LOST.—We are not officially informed that the "Sweet Heavens" lost her umbrella night before last, but we have had the most positive circumstantial [illegible] of the fact in the way of a rain fall The umbrella [illegible] was either lost strayed or stolen or awful [illegible] it didn't shed water at all events, and so the rain [illegible] down for thirty-six hours almost as [illegible] as it does sometimes at the Dalles.

PARDONED.—The Record says "Gov Woods has pardoned Bolton, lately sent up from Portland for larceny of a boat which he tried to sell. An impression prevails as to his innocence as he says he intended to take his brother's boat according to his directions, and got hold of another man's by mistake. The pardon was [illegible] application of the Judge, Prosecuting Attorney and many others

[illegible].—The Alert yesterday brought down from [illegible] City, 287 boxes apples, 1,113 qr sks flour, 39 [illegible] bbls and 56 hlf bbls, miscellaneous produce, 12 [illegible], 30 cases lard, 27 sks fruit, 260 bags [illegible], 2 rolls leather, 1 bdle fruit trees, 3 sks berries, 2 boxes [illegible] geese, 3 boxes eggs, 2 bales woolen goods, 1 pkge furs, 140 bags feed and 21 pkges sundries

THE SCHOONER CROSBY.—A few days since, the schooner Crosby with a cargo of coal for the Portland Gas Works, went ashore near Nanaimo, where she had just [illegible] It was at first reported here that the vessel and [illegible] were both lost, but a subsequent telegram contains the [illegible] that the vessel was saved, the cargo having been thrown overboard.

CHRISTMAS EVE.—There will be divine service at nearly, if not quite all the churches of the city this evening At the M E Church there will be a Christmas tree for the members of the Sunday School a short address, singing, etc High mass will be celebrated at the Catholic Church The Good Templars will have a magnificent Christmas tree

HELD TO ANSWER.—In the case of the State vs. Wm Fox, John Holt, and John Brookbank charged with breaking open a trunk at the California Hotel and stealing the contents the defendants were severally held to [illegible] to the charge before the next grand jury Not being able to find bail they were committed to the county jail

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At an election held last evening by Harmony Lodge No 12 A & A M the following [illegible] were elected for the ensuing Masonic year: A B Richardson W M, W H Brackett S W, W H D. Joyce, J W J L Atkinson Treasurer W D Carter, Secretary A G Walling Tyler

MEETING OF THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—Our item of Saturday morning announcing the meeting of the Multnomah County Teachers Institute on Tuesday, 24th was [illegible] as to date The Institute will convene on Thursday, 26th at 10 o clock, A. M.

FOR SALE.—The old hand engine of Protection Engine Co has been removed to the house of Vigilance H & L Co. and is for sale, so we are informed A gentleman residing at Eugene City, is talking of purchasing it.

THE CITY COUNCIL.—We understand that there will not be any meeting of the City Council to-morrow evening, on account of the intention of several of the members to attend No 4's [illegible] ceremonies

An Age of Sensations

Much is said about our living in an age of intelligence and progress So we undoubtedly do There is much in this age which indicates growth development, progress, in the science of life while there is also much to indicate that in respect to many things, this progress has taken a wrong direction A writer in an able Eastern journal remarks that "the progress of the age is not steady We are drifting into sensations in religion, in morals in literature and art and the more sensational the religionist the moralist, the author or the artist, the sooner he becomes a lion, and the more greenbacks he puts in his pocket" To illustrate this remark, we cite the following paragraph from an article which this writer presents under the head of "An Age of Sensations"

Everywhere the popular demand is driving the genuine and legitimate from the market and supplying its place with the spurious and illegitimate Mr Tupper with his cheap commonplaces, has forced Homer and Milton into the dust of library back shelves Sylvanus Cobb's stories and Beadle's Dime Novels have more circulation in one day than Scott and Cooper in a year The cheap sensations of Miss Braddon, and her familiar Babington White meet with a circulation that would have astonished Washington Irving Put a piece of adultery and gambling into a book, let it deal with the demi monde in a patronizing way, and its success is pretty well assured Madame Aubrey keeps her establishment, has her mornings at home, attends the opera, and steps very trippingly over the pavement and Dumas canonizes her at once and accepts her reality in Adah Menken, and the people applaud There is not a publisher in the country to day who will go outside of his "ring" to touch a legitimate book, by a new author, unless the writer advances the expenses of publication Let it be understood that the book is a sensation and publishers will outbid each other to obtain the lucky manuscript We are ready to admit that General Grant is the right man in the right place and equally as ready to insist that General Grant, as a novel writer, would be in the wrong place If General Grant should write a novel it would in all probability, be the poorest one ever written, and yet there is not a publication house in the country that would be able to supply the demand for it His fame as a soldier would be eclipsed by his fame as an author just as Mr Beecher's poor novel has pushed into obscurity his excellent sermons The stage is no better in this respect than literature. The woman with large calves and little brains, the man with much physical and little intellectual labor the dramas with thin virtue and model art, are the attractions, while the legitimate drama is played to empty benches Shakspeare holds the mirror up to nature, but nature does not care to see herself. The cheap dramatists of to day succeed by holding the alluring, sensual side of nature up to the view of the people

A private letter from Glasgow says that, although the price of cotton is nearly as low as it was before the war, there is no demand for goods, and the manufacturers are as badly off for orders and the operators for work, as they were in 1857 He adds "There is more starvation in Glasgow and its neighborhood just now than at any time for ten years past"

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer, but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally and it stands alone unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines and its sale is universal and immense The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home and it has become known in these far off places by its merits

Just Cause for being Alarmed.—When a Cough has been running for a long time, and you begin to feel a pain setting in upon your lungs attended with tightness across the chest it is high time that you should awaken to the danger of your disease which is fast running into Consumption Now before it is too late, use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM which will cure the disease and all will be well with you For sale by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, [illegible], Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re[illegible] and re[illegible] them

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

"Democracy."

Under this caption the October number of the Westminster Review, British, has an eleven page article, being a review or criticism of a work "On Democracy," by J. Arthur Partridge. The opening pages are worth reading. They are bold, and we may say unexpected, considering the quarter from which they come. Hear what the British Reviewer says, as he introduces the subject:

The organization and establishment of Democracy is the work which the past has made ready for the present and the future to complete. Since the first signs of decay appeared in the Feudal system, the whole of western civilization has [illegible] towards this end; every scientific discovery, from that of the revolution of the earth to that of the origin of species, every mechanical improvement, from the printing press to the steam engine, every political advance, from Magna Charta to the Reform Act, has assisted in its turn to level ranks and to diffuse power. The great and prosperous American Republic is an example of an approximate solution of the problem which we ourselves must sooner or later be called upon to solve in our own way. In the United States we are given the precedent of a democracy ruling over a gigantic empire and presiding over the destiny of a mighty people, equally distinguished for their individuality and their nationality, and remarkable alike for their love of peace and their vigor in war. The experiment of popular Government has been there tried on a vast [illegible], and in spite of [illegible] defects in the form in which it has been tested, it has succeeded by virtue of its own intrinsic excellence. The history of European society is the history of the Feudal System; the record of its rise and growth is the history of Roman polity and primitive barbarism; the [illegible] of its decline and fall is the history of modern social development. If we take its maturity [illegible] point of observation we may appreciate the distinctive and even opposite characteristics of ancient and of modern progression; for in it we see the [illegible] of the first and the [illegible] of the [illegible]. The tendency of the one was more and more to subordinate the individual [illegible] community, and its purpose was to [illegible] personality which the predatory [illegible] of our species had [illegible]; the tendency of the other is [illegible] and more to subordinate the community to the individual, and its purpose is to educe that intense personality of a higher order in the [illegible] of which lie all our hopes for the intellectual, and [illegible] for the moral and material advancement of mankind. The unit of ancient society [illegible], and the citizen was important only as he was merged in an institution; the unit of [illegible] is always an individual, and institutions are important only as they con[illegible] of the citizen. In the [illegible] the political position of the [illegible] body of the people was wholly de[illegible] to their immediate lords, and they [illegible] with the State exclusive[illegible] we have the fullest illustration of [illegible] and equitable [illegible] propounded by [illegible] Mr. Mill; we have [illegible] the best example of the latter which [illegible] will permit us practically to [illegible] 'Ancient [illegible] and political [illegible] to be [illegible] aristocra[illegible] Democracy will be [illegible] of the new.

In the [illegible] we have lately given to [illegible] we have at least taken one important step towards Democracy. When, as M. de Tocqueville has [illegible], a nation [illegible] to [illegible], it will [illegible] to do so [illegible]. It altogether. After [illegible] will in[illegible] and their [illegible] will [illegible] with their [illegible] who are below the [illegible] will [illegible] in exact proportion to the numbers of those who are above it; [illegible]. However [illegible] the pool may have been [illegible] once the pebble is cast into the [illegible] will widen [illegible] till they [illegible] from shore to shore. [illegible] can be made on behalf of [illegible], the [illegible] doctrine of the Whigs is like [illegible] first [illegible] of the original [illegible] and in practice im[illegible].

[illegible] both Houses of Parliament [illegible] of the Reform Act of 1867 [illegible] that the [illegible] made by [illegible] startled the House of Commons [illegible] and [illegible]. The tone and scope of the [illegible] in Parliament for and [illegible] bill of 1867 exhibit a [illegible] with which the [illegible]. None who read [illegible] the passing of the [illegible] can help feeling that it was a measure [illegible] and an[illegible] which [illegible] of the [illegible] can help feeling that [illegible] in the calm [illegible] by an oligarchy conscious that [illegible]. There was no one who [illegible] to stem the tide of de[illegible] that the tide had [illegible] till the [illegible] of our [illegible] God Thor, who [illegible] to drink up the [illegible], and only [illegible] Mrs. Partingtons, who at[illegible] back [illegible].

[illegible] a long time ago [illegible], of whom [illegible] further need [illegible] that he is fast losing his early pro[illegible] beauty, and that his name [illegible] a time, and, if there [illegible] as well [illegible] the Fall, this wag of a fellow was [illegible] the Mississippi, in fine spirits and a [illegible] characters on [illegible], with whom Tom, [illegible] with their peculiarities, [illegible] to him more kindly than an elderly [illegible] of Indi[illegible] New Orleans for [illegible]. The rural looking antique, [illegible] the comedian's sporting but[illegible] "I'll bet you," etc., fully made up his mind that Tom was a "genuine sportsman," and, [illegible] going on, he was [illegible] the skill and quality of the players, the "size of the pile," and bringing Tom the [illegible]. The "gentleman sportsman" was very [illegible] he didn't exactly [illegible] of it, when, one day, the [illegible] took him aside, told him that [illegible] "a pile" on one of the [illegible], and that, if he liked, he (the [illegible]) would [illegible] with him—in cahoot." Tom was very much amused at this, but told his [illegible] he was [illegible]; that the [illegible] covered not a "sportsman," but a [illegible] the old countryman, "one of them thar fellers what tumbles! [illegible] 'em onct, men's half naked, cuttin' up, [illegible]!"

Tom didn't trouble himself much in explaining the [illegible] between [illegible] atrical show and a [illegible] but told the story of the cards, etc., [illegible] the old fellow quite an [illegible] to the passengers. Next to the [illegible] the object of anxiety to the hoosier was a [illegible] shaped pine box, which [illegible] "Actal Hall," containing nothing [illegible] a big fiddle, and which was award [illegible] reserved and gloomy looking [illegible] on his way South, professionally. [illegible] said the [illegible] he was [illegible] familiar with Tom, after learning that he belonged to a show, "what on arth [illegible] they got in that thar [illegible] the onhumanist shape I ever did [illegible]."

"Hush," said Tom, mysteriously; "don't you know?"

"No! I'm mighty dead a guessin'!"

"Bodies!" whispered the comedian, with a [illegible] of loathing.

"[illegible]!" echoed the startling inquirer; "not [illegible] human bodies?"

"Bodies!" repeated Tom, at the same time applying his handkerchief to his nose; "taking [illegible] for dissection; belong to a doctor on board."

The [illegible] stared away, opening his eyes and shutting his nose. At length, he inquired if they were [illegible]

"[illegible], and two children," was the [illegible] each side of her—accounts for the [illegible] of the box."

At this moment the haggard, unshaven violinist [illegible], and the thoroughly "sawed" victim [illegible] for him, as if he had been the cholera [illegible]!

"[illegible] diggin' on 'em up, does he?" said he between his teeth, and in a suppressing voice, "Why, it'll breed pison!" and out he went on the [illegible] to take a long breath.

Tom told the joke, and, among the passengers, [illegible]; making wide circuits whenever they had to approach the box, using [illegible] handkerchiefs, and expressing much indignation at the captain for permitting that description of freight to be brought under the noses of his passengers. Some talked of leaving the boat, and others of lynching the doctor, till at length the captain, who had also been put up to the fun, approached the crowd, then gathered about the bar.

"Phew!" sniffed the captain, "it's very warm here, gentlemen; phew!" and he pulled out his handkerchief. "Gentlemen, isn't there something unpleasant about here?"

"Pretends not to know what it is!" muttered the hoosier aside.

"Barkeeper," continued the captain, "what the deuce is it—phew—so queer here?"

"Reckon you don't know!" exclaimed the hoosier, stepping forward, and almost quivering with indignation.

"Know, certainly not," said the captain.

"Well, you've got that box too near the stove, that's all!"

A perfect scream of laughter rather stumped the old fellow; but a removal of "the lid of the coffin" was necessary before he could be convinced that the body, indeed, was that of "Old Rosin the Bow." He paid "the liquors" willingly, "cusin'" his old cat for not remembering that "Plays" was one of the "show-folk varmints!"

[illegible] SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in F[illegible], where the art of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in [illegible] from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it [illegible] and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, as [illegible] only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after [illegible] efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely [illegible] the knowledge of its virtues, finally [illegible] himself the [illegible] of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a [illegible] the [illegible] by presenting to those a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

[illegible] that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but [illegible] power is exhibited when it is applied to old [illegible] of long standing, which have resisted every other [illegible] to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks [illegible] in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its [illegible] that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the [illegible] year, cured [illegible] of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which [illegible] the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was [illegible] cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

Mr. E. FOOFE, of the firm of Moore, Gerst & Foofe, of [illegible] lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes and [illegible] for over fifteen years.

ROBERT KAMPSY and W. D. FORKER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with [illegible] eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURCHASED the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F. McElroy, propose to issue a Weekly Newspaper at Olympia, W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Mechanical, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time reserving the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to [illegible] all matters in their true light, and give credit wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and [illegible] us in getting a good list of Subscribers, Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and [illegible] Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases, (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken down [illegible] tions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] thousands suffer until death [illegible] the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies [illegible] they are cured for and [illegible] before it be too late. Send [illegible] to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private di[illegible] his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all [illegible] in a few days, imposing upon the [illegible] by using the [illegible] of eminent ph[illegible] from [illegible] and other [illegible]. Be therefore careful and [illegible] strict[illegible], or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] This solitary vice, or [illegible] sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with [illegible] certainty, the [illegible] train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical [illegible], viz: Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, [illegible] of the limbs, confusion of [illegible], loss of confidence, [illegible] in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of [illegible], pimples and [illegible] the face, [illegible], feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, [illegible], insomnia and frequent[illegible]. If relief be not obtained, [illegible] apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure [illegible] entire mode of treating this [illegible] a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] to him that he was cured of this complaint by [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The [illegible] and [illegible] Dr. Gibbon's [illegible] success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without pain nor drugs, injurious or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or [illegible] for packages of medicines, may rely upon his [illegible] of confidential [illegible] with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, [illegible] the circumstances and abilities of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extorting among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Patients at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating name, [illegible], length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
